

CHANGING SEASONS

6ème 7

DARK NIGHT

Sunflowers growing
In the glittering darkness
Yellow stars; black sky.

Tristan AMELINE

THE MOON

The beautiful moon
Lights the night like Broadway
But the stars are blind.

Capucine ANTHORE

SPRING SHOWERS

Long April showers soak
Smushy, dirty, brown, dull mud.
Pretty May blossoms.

Mahé ARCIZET

COUNTRYSIDE

Sad countryside pumpkins
Under dying leaves: red, yellow, orange.
A butterfly flies past.

Martin CABEZA

SUMMERTIME SADNESS

Debbly dull beaches
Bright red boats on windswept currents
Sea salt in jealous tangled hair.

Malia COINTOT

WINTER

Bears hibernate
Snowy owls wide awake
Silent nights sweep past.

Juliette FRORUP

THE WORST MONTH

Rain pours down.
Magical fire-words are ending
Time to go home.

Noah GREENE

AUGUST

Yellow, bright summer
Blue sky, green-red poppy fields
Before mist, gentle rain

Noah LARGO

SUMMER HAS LEFT

Gnarled willows
Cry their drooping leaves.
Winter is coming.

Ima MASSEY

WINTER MORNING

Heavy white branches
Small birds chirping
Vast lake crackling

Roxane PARIK

THE BOY

Abandoned boy in tears
Lonely, by a river.
Autumn's yellow beauty.

Arsène RENAUD

WHITE AUTUMN

Golden and red leaves,
Covered with glittering snow.
Glad children.

William WILSON

NEW SPRING

Under the bare branches
Newborn cubs announcing spring.
Pleading small squeals.

Isabella LILLIS-PARSONS

THE MOON'S BEST FRIEND

Over spring green hill
Bright full moon smiles upon
Yellow daffodils.

Nora KELOGLANIAN