Going into P2/CP

An excellent preparation for reading and writing is to share books with your child for a short period every day. Any picture books with repetition and, or rhyme are good, as are poetry books. Below is a short list of books that you might enjoy sharing with your child:

Danny McGee drinks the sea. by Andy Stanton and Neal Layton
The Tiger Who Came to Tea by Judith Kerr
Cat in the Hat by Dr Seuss
Funny Bones by Janet and Allan Ahlberg
Brown Bear, Brown Bear What Do You See? By Bill Martin Jr. and Eric Carle
Handa's Surprise by Eileen Browne
Giraffes Can't Dance by Giles Andreae and Guy Parker-Rees
Rumble in the Jungle by Giles Andreae & David Wojtowycz
Dr Seuss Mr Brown Can Moo Can you?

Tips for reading with your child

Talk about the book before reading it. Look at the title, the pictures and the information on the cover. If it's an old book, discuss your favourite bits.

Read with different voices and get your child to join in with bits that are repetitive ('They pulled and pulled', 'Oh, no said the... I won't let you in', etc.)

When you have finished, talk about the events in the book.

Encourage them to talk by asking them if something similar has happened to them, or what they would have done in the same situation.

Encourage them to ask you questions about the book.

After reading, play letter spotting and word games. How many words can you find that begin with the 't' sound? What word rhymes with say? This word says 'Dan'; can you find it anywhere else on the page?

Make sure they are pronouncing the sounds of the letters correctly.

Further recommendations

The following books should be worked on with the children to ensure familiarity with initial phonics and reinforce their knowledge during the holidays:

My Phonics Activity Book 1, Book 2 and Book 3 by Julia Donaldson
